

WEDDING

A Wedding Day is not when your Marriage starts
And Marriage is not a "Destination"
It Celebrates the Union and Journey already in your Hearts
And a Lifetime of Love's anticipation

It's the day when you Celebrate and Proclaim
How you met and each other's Hearts won
And in giving of your Love the more love you have gained
And more Love in the future will come

And the Vows you exchange and the Golden jeweled rings
Express eternally what your Hearts feel within
As you Embrace Each other, and your Soul its Love Song Sings
Every Day love is reborn again

Yet this Day is so Special for it tells all the World
Of your heartfelt and unending Love
As your Future Together in this Life now unfurls
May You Be Blessed this day and Always from Above
